

Business Insights Report – Marketing Campaign Dataset

Dataset Overview:

The dataset contains customer demographic information, purchasing behaviour, and marketing campaign responses.

Key Findings:

1. Most customers belong to the middle-aged group, indicating that the business primarily serves mature customers.
2. Married customers represent the largest customer segment compared to single and divorced customers.
3. Wine and meat products contribute the highest share of customer spending.
4. Physical store purchases are significantly higher than catalogue and web purchases, indicating customers prefer in-store shopping.
5. Campaign response rates are relatively low, suggesting opportunities to improve marketing effectiveness.
6. Customers with higher income levels generally spend more across product categories.

Recommendations:

- Allocate more marketing budget toward high-performing product categories such as wines and meat products.
- Improve digital marketing strategies to increase web purchases.
- Develop targeted campaigns for customer groups with high spending potential.
- Enhance customer engagement programs to improve campaign response rates.

Conclusion:

The analysis provides valuable insights into customer behaviour and purchasing patterns. Focusing on high-value customer segments and improving campaign targeting can increase overall business performance and ROI.
